THE FUTURE OF COFFEE

New brewer. New design.
New app. New technology.

At Scanomat, we have reimagined the coffee experience to bring you a totally unique, state-of-the-art solution at the cutting-edge of coffee brewing technology and, ultimately - the internet of things.

The beautiful Danish design is built for architecture and effortlessly complements an array of spaces across a range of sectors - from workplace to hospitality.

To help you imagine the possibilities, we have put together a selection of our finest TopBrewer projects to give you an idea of the unprecedented flexibility and versatility the TopBrewer allows.

ARCHITECTURE + DESIGN

We work closely with a number of architects, interior designers, office fit-out companies and furniture suppliers - we call them strategic partners.

For businesses in the interior design industry, their office doubles as a showroom so it is important they 'walk the walk' when it comes to design, culture, innovation and technology.

As coffee is a vital part of workplace design, our strategic partners choose to endorse TopBrewer in their own workspaces to deliver a premium coffee experience to staff and clients.

SHARING IDEAS OVER COFFEE

The TopBrewer brings people together around coffee. For years the coffee machine has been the hub of the office. For the first time a coffee solution has been designed with true collaboration in mind.

WORKPLACE DESIGN

When it comes to the workplace, coffee is a very important and emotive subject.

Not only is it an office perk that employees simply cannot live without, research has found that strategically placed coffee points are an excellent enabler for spontaneous interactions and bump opportunities.

In agile workspaces, the TopBrewer provides an anchor point in breakout zones to foster collaborative working and informal meetings.

MINIMAL STREAMLINED DESIGN

The ultra-minimalist design fits seamlessly into the modern workplace environment to give an uber-sleek look against a gloss white finish.

CAR SHOWROOMS

From the moment you enter a car showroom the brand experience begins.

Car showrooms are as much about the hospitality experience as they are about selling cars. Lifestyle is everything, and every minor detail needs to be perfect.

When it comes to coffee, TopBrewer provides a luxury, self-service, hassle-free solution for brands that want to offer premium beverages to customers.

The smart TopBrewer technology is akin to developments in the car sector and offers a personalised experience to clients.
